

Commentary

The greatest expression of love is compassion.

"Everyone is doing the best they can with the resources they have available to them. Sure, many times it may not be 'good enough' for us, but they are merely fulfilling their cosmic design and playing their role perfectly in the grand scheme of things." Fr. Fergus

And Jesus looked down on His executioners and said "Father forgive them. They really don't know what they're doing." (just playing their role!)

And, if we had strong faith that everything is according to the Divine Will, we would live in compassion for all of His World. And that inner state of compassion is soooo sweet!

Perfect love for God presupposes perfect confidence in God's Will in everything. (This is profound mystical truth)
