

StillPoint Retreats

Bi-Weekly Symposium

What Do You Teach?

It is said that after we take our last breath the angel will ask us: "What did you teach?" In other words, what did people get from you? How did they experience you? Well, what they got from you, what they experience when they are with you or when you come to mind, is your lifelong dominant thought pattern. That is the sum total of the effect of how you see the world, the other, yourself, and God.

Your perspective is your gift. It is a thought form that affects all of creation.

Our purpose determines who we are. Is our true purpose to nourish our feeling and sensations focusing on this temporal life? Or is our true purpose, as Caretakers of the Light, to Love His World as He did?

How do we love? By stimulating love in the other. By seeing the other in his wholeness and recognizing that he too is the Light covered with an individuality. When we stimulate this wholeness in the other, when we love him, this allows him to experience intimacy with his own inner being, his own Light and Love, his own Inner Divinity...and that intimacy, that experience of God within, is the fulfillment of all desires.

Our purpose? Only Love.

An old monk once taught me, he said:

"The audacity of Love is to be the first one to say, 'I LOVE YOU.'"

Only Love,

Jerry