

Silence Speaks Contemplations

“Your life is the unique experience
God wants you to have.”

Why? Because everything that comes to us is specifically designed for us to learn to respond with Love. No, I do not mean Love as a gushy emotion, but the most evolutionary response to life.

What is that act of Love? It is twofold: Acceptance and Faith.

Where does this response come from? It is an expression of our Inner Life. It is not an external formula of rules and regulations – it is “us” spontaneously expressing “our selves” according to our own nature, supported by a basis of Silence and Pure Knowledge. When we have Silence and Pure Knowledge as our foundation (the Ocean supporting the wave), God can work through us. He can Love through us. Our minds and judgements are bypassed. It then all comes from our heart (the core of our being).

So, the end point of it all is Love, and we understand and express Love according to our own unique individuality.

And it's all a BIG SET UP!
