

Teachings of the Eastern Masters

"The world may go topsy-turvy, but we should not falter. Sticking to our ground firmly, we should calmly watch the sport of this world.

"There is no other protector except God. Unique are His doings, priceless and inconceivable! Only that will come to pass which He wants to happen; He will Himself show His way."

Commentary

With so much going "topsy-turvy" in the world right now, I found this passage very reassuring. The best remedy for us is to "stick to our ground" - maintain our basis in the ground of Silence through our spiritual practices and our attitude of faith and patience and our identity and perspective of "I am Pure Spirit witnessing all of this as God." God Himself is orchestrating all events, even those that seem incomprehensible or alarming to our human mind. But we can rest in the faith that only that will come to pass which He wants to happen.

Today's quotation is from the Shri Sai Satcharita, Chapter 19, v.145, 148-149.

Love,

Erin